

Suspense Paragraph

The sky was dark blue.
Black shadows moved slowly over the grass. From the dark black corner, Subena could see red eyes staring at her. Red, unblinking eyes!

What did the eyes belong to?

Subena stared carefully into the black corner. Where the eyes looking at her? She stood still. What should she do? Slowly, she crept like a cat back towards the door.

BANG! Suddenly the huge brown door closed loudly behind her. Now what? The red eyes loomed towards her, growing like balloons when they are blown up. She could see the outline of white teeth as the shape came nearer. The teeth were huge. The rasping breath of the creatures breath was loud. Where could she hide?
