

Problem	Solution
Helen could not speak 	She learned to use finger language and to lip read
Helen could not see 	She learned to work with other people and to listen carefully
Helen could not write 	She learned to read and write in braille
Helen cared about other people who could not see	She did lots of tours and lessons to raise money for other blind people
Helen wanted to help people understand about her life	She made films about her life and wrote books
Helen had tantrums when she was small 	She found better ways to communicate with other people